

Restaurant Manager

The University Club

Providence, RI

About the Club:

The University Club is a private, city club located on Benefit Street in Providence, Rhode Island. Established in 1899 and housed in a Historic East Side Mansion, our members enjoy an exceptional dining program, athletics, and creative programming. We are open year-round, and host a la carte dining, special events, and private functions.

About the Position:

Successful candidates will have strong Food and Beverage experience, preferably in a private club environment.

Fine Dining Service, catering and bartending management experience is a must with a strong commitment to enhancing member experience through professional service and knowledge.

A passion for leadership and the ability to build a service team through training and coaching is critical.

The ideal candidate will be genuine, personable, outgoing, approachable and enjoy regularly being a presence on the floor in front of the membership.

Candidates should be highly organized, self-motivated, passionate in personnel development, prideful in achieving high level member services and experiences, comfortable with achieving deadlines and goals, and capable of using technology and software to manage the business.

The Restaurant Manager is responsible for management of the front of the house operations for all food and beverage, including member a la carte dining and event functions with a keen focus on helping members and guests enjoy the facilities and events at the Club.

The Restaurant Manager assists in the interviewing, hiring, onboarding and training of all front of house staff and provides clear and concise direction to servers, hosts, bartenders and runners in all aspects of service and operations.

The Restaurant Manager works in tandem with the Executive Chef and the Event & Membership Manager to streamline successful operations.

Managing reservations, planning for all member dining and events. Must have an understanding of the POS system Jonas, along with Microsoft Suite.

Position is full time and includes nights, weekends, and holidays. Compensation is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Generous benefit package includes meals, insurance, parking and bonus.

Successful candidates must have strong Fine Dining and Food and Beverage experience.

Job Type: Full-time

Pay: Generous salary commensurate with experience and includes holiday bonus, vacation, health and dental insurance, 401K with percentage match, meals, parking.

Send Resume to: General Manager Julie Nahas at Nahas@uclubprov.com